

FOREWORD FROM THE DESK OF REGIONAL MARKETING DIRECTOR H. ELSWORTH PRINGLE III

Well, gosh! What a swell time to be alive — and, more importantly, what a swell time to be in the business of post-apocalyptic agricultural recovery solutions! The Garden of Eden Creation Kit, or G.E.C.K., represents the crown jewel of Vault-Tec's product portfolio, and it is our collective responsibility as Marketing Associates to ensure that every advertisement, pamphlet, holotape jingle, and pre-recorded broadcast message reflects the industry-leading optimism that our valued residential testing assets have come to expect.

This document supersedes all prior G.E.C.K. branding memoranda. Non-compliance with these guidelines constitutes a Category III Brand Infringement and will result in the offending associate's immediate reassignment to Vault Section 9-G (the 'Enthusiasm Recalibration Suite'). We trust that will not be necessary. You're a real go-getter!

SECTION 1 — APPROVED PRODUCT NOMENCLATURE & TAGLINES

The G.E.C.K. must always be referred to by its full, approved designation upon first use in any collateral material. Subsequent references may use the acronym 'G.E.C.K.' (with periods). The informal variant 'Geck,' 'The Kit,' or — heaven forbid — 'that box of dirt' are strictly prohibited.

1.1 Approved Taglines

ID	Tagline	Status
TAG-A	"Tomorrow's Eden, Delivered Today!"	APPROVED — Tier 1 (Primary)
TAG-B	"Because Someone Has to Rebuild."	APPROVED — Tier 2 (Secondary)
TAG-C	"Vault-Tec: Growing Hope from the Ashes!"	APPROVED — Tier 2 (Secondary)
TAG-D	"For a World That Really Needed a Do-Over!"	APPROVED — Tier 3 (Humorous)
TAG-E	"The Last Gift You'll Ever Need. (Patent Pending.)"	APPROVED — Tier 3 (Humorous)

SECTION 2 — PROHIBITED TERMINOLOGY: THE 'M-WORD' MANDATE

■ MANDATORY READING — ALL MARKETING ASSOCIATES MUST INITIAL PAGE 4 UPON REVIEW ■

Effective immediately and with retroactive force dating to the product's initial conceptualization, the word "MIRACLE" — and any of its cognates, diminutives, foreign-language equivalents, or strongly implied synonyms — is permanently, irrevocably, and enthusiastically BANNED from all G.E.C.K. marketing materials.

2.1 The Legal Situation (Presented with Great Cheer!)

Our extraordinarily peachy colleagues in the Vault-Tec Office of Jurisprudence (filing reference: VT-LEGAL-1032-GECK-MIRACLE-CLASS) have advised that repeated use of "miracle" in G.E.C.K. advertising creates actionable implied warranties of supernatural efficacy. Specifically, seven (7) prior marketing campaigns described the G.E.C.K. as a "terraforming miracle" or a "miracle of modern science," which has resulted in the following simply delightful legal liabilities:

- Three (3) pending class-action suits from pre-sold vault residents demanding that the G.E.C.K. also cure "spontaneous isotope integration" (radiation sickness). It cannot. This is a feature, not a flaw.
- One (1) breach-of-contract claim from a Vault 88 Overseer who interpreted "miracle" as a binding promise of instantaneous biosphere restoration. The G.E.C.K. requires a minimum of 18–24 months under optimal surface conditions. The Overseer's premature deployment resulted in what our scientists are calling a "swell learning experience."
- Ongoing regulatory scrutiny from the Bureau of Pre-War Consumer Affairs, who are apparently still operational and frankly rather tiresome about the whole thing.

2.2 Approved Replacements for 'Miracle'

Our crackerjack wordsmithing team has developed the following tip-top approved alternatives. Associates are encouraged to use these terms liberally and with maximum enthusiasm!

PROHIBITED TERM	APPROVED REPLACEMENT	ENTHUSIASM RATING
Miracle	Science-Optimized Biotic Renewal Event	★★★★★
Miracle of nature	Statistically Favorable Ecological Outcome	★★★★■
Near-miracle	High-Probability Success Scenario	★★★★■
Nothing short of a miracle	Performing Exactly Within Specifications	★★★██
Miraculous recovery	Aggressive Physiological Re-Greening	★★★★★
It's a miracle anyone survived	Participant Retention Rate: Acceptable	★★███

SECTION 3 — VISUAL IDENTITY STANDARDS

3.1 Approved Imagery

All G.E.C.K. advertising visuals must convey radiant optimism, fertile abundance, and the can-do spirit of American agri-science. The following subject matter is pre-cleared for use in all media formats without additional legal review:

- Lush, green meadows populated exclusively by people who do not appear to be suffering.
- Smiling Vault Dwellers in pristine jumpsuits tending to improbably large vegetables.
- A golden sunrise over a horizon that is conspicuously free of nuclear devastation.
- The G.E.C.K. unit itself, depicted in soft, warm lighting (never harsh overhead fluorescents, which remind consumers of medical procedures).
- Children laughing near the G.E.C.K. — provided said children do not appear to be mutated. Any visible additional limbs must be digitally removed prior to print.

3.2 Prohibited Imagery

The following imagery is expressly prohibited and will result in the immediate impoundment of all associated print runs. (Form 74-B for Mass Collateral Disposal must be filed in triplicate with the Brand Compliance Office within 48 hours of confiscation.)

#	PROHIBITED IMAGERY	REASON
1	The G.E.C.K. depicted as 'unopened' or 'unused'	Implies consumer hesitation.
2	Pre-war vs. post-war surface comparison photography	Legal exposure re: implied promise.
3	Any stock photography featuring the word 'MIRACLE' on props	See Section 2, you rascal.
4	Mushroom clouds (even decorative or festive ones)	Consumer research: mixed response.
5	Mole rats, Radscorpions, or other 'Ecological Enrichment Fauna'	Inconsistent with brand messaging.
6	Before/after imagery where 'before' is clearly more habitable	Per VT-LEGAL memo 1033-B.

SECTION 4 — CHANNEL-SPECIFIC GUIDELINES

4.1 Radio Broadcasts (Emergency Frequency Re-use)

In the event that pre-scheduled radio advertising slots become available due to the "unexpected unavailability of prior programming staff," G.E.C.K. advertisements must be queued as the third item in any emergency broadcast rotation — positioned after the Vault-Tec safety announcement and the approved musical interlude, but before any civil emergency messaging. Brand recall during moments of heightened consumer stress is, frankly, peachy for Q4 metrics.

4.2 Pip-Boy Holotape Advertisements

Audio-format G.E.C.K. advertisements distributed via Pip-Boy holotape must adhere to a strict 90-second runtime. The final 15 seconds must be allocated to the Mandatory Legal Disclaimer (see Appendix C, read at a minimum speed of 240 words per minute to ensure regulatory compliance without meaningfully informing the listener).

4.3 In-Vault Announcements via ZAX Terminal

All ZAX-delivered G.E.C.K. announcements must be framed as 'good news updates' regardless of factual context. Example: 'Great news, Vault 92 residents! Your G.E.C.K. has been pre-positioned in the Overseer's Suite for convenient post-sealing access! Remember: the future is bright — literally, given current atmospheric particulate levels!'

SECTION 5 — REGULATORY & COMPLIANCE NOTES

5.1 Required Disclosures

All G.E.C.K. advertising must include the following disclosure statement, rendered in a minimum 6pt font (or verbally delivered at no fewer than 240 WPM):

"Vault-Tec Corporation makes no warranty, expressed or implied, that the G.E.C.K. will restore a habitable biosphere within the lifetime of any current Vault resident. 'Garden of Eden' is a registered trademark and constitutes an aspirational marketing metaphor, not a geological, theological, or agricultural guarantee. Results may vary. Side effects of premature G.E.C.K. deployment may include, but are not limited to: localized soil toxicity, unplanned botanical mutation, and Science-Optimized Biotic Renewal Events of unexpected magnitude. Vault-Tec is not responsible for any participant non-continuation events arising from surface deployment. Have a swell day!"

5.2 Form Filing Requirements

FORM #	PURPOSE	COPIES
